Loss or damage to guest’s property

Under the;

“Hotel Proprietor Act 1956”

an hotel proprietor may in certain circumstances be liable to make good any loss of or damage to a guest’s property even though it was not due to any fault of the proprietor or staff of the hotel.

That liability however-

A) Extends only to the property belonging to clients engaged in sleeping accommodation at the hotel.

B) Is limited to £50 for any one article and a total of £100 for any one guest, except in the case of property which has been deposited, or offered for deposit, the safe custody.

C) Does not cover motorcars or other vehicles of any kind or any property left in them, or horses or other live animals.

This notice does not constitute an admission either that the act applies to this hotel or any liability there under attaches to the proprietor of this hotel in any particular case.

Furthermore, the hotel enforces it’s right, as an implied contractual condition on booking, that any property loss or damage valued more than £100, shall not render the business, proprietor, manager or staff liable.
